DAY 2 : TANGIER – CHEFCHAOUEN

In the morning, explore Tangier medina with your driver. Some sights of interest are the American Litigation Museum, the Museum of Moroccan Art and Antiquities, and away from the city, Cap Spartel (where the Atlantic and Mediterranean meet), as well as the Cave of Hercules. After lunch, you'll travel into the Rif Mountains and the 'Blue Town' of Chefchaouen. This once Jewish settlement is now home to a vibrant art scene and offers travelers an other-worldly view into a unique area in all of Africa.
(2.5 hours drive)

Breakfast is included at the Dar Shams in Tangier.

Lunch and dinner are not included.

Overnight in Casa Perleta

DAY 3 : CHEFCHAOUEN

Half day guided tour in the Medina of Chefchaouen. Afternoon free to explore the blue town on your own to take photos, sit at the cafes in the town square, try a Moroccan cookie and mint tea.

Jale's note: If you like hats, go to the Hat Man. This funky shop is located toward the top of the medina on the main thoroughfare, Rue Targui. For spices and artisanal soaps, stop by El Jabon Arte Con La Abuela (Soap Art with Grandma) on Zanka Targhi, just a few steps up from the central Place Uta el-Hammam.

Breakfast is included at Casa Perleta
Lunch and dinner are not included.

DAY 4 : VOLUBILIS – FEZ

You'll have some time this morning before heading to the impressive Roman ruins of Volubilis filled with remnants of the society that once was with their lives and stories depicted in amazingly well-kept mosaics. Following, a quick visit to the sacred town of Moulay Idriss sets the scene before you travel to the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Fez. A superb dinner will be served tonight in your riad. (4 hours drive)

Breakfast is included at Casa Perleta.
Lunch is not included.
Dinner is included at Ryad Salama
Overnight at Ryad Salama, Fez

DAY 5 : FEZ

Today, you'll be able to enjoy a guided visit with a local, expert guide through the labyrinth that makes up the ancient medina of Fez. You'll meet your guide at around 9 a.m. this morning to discuss the sites you'd most like to see. Some of the highlights include the tannery, spice market, the Qaraouine University, Koranic schools, visiting craftsmen, and walking through the various souks; all of this unveils even more about Moroccan culture, history, and even cuisine. Today's guided visit ends at around 3:30 p.m. although the guide is more than willing to stay longer if you'd like. Enjoy shopping later in the afternoon.

Breakfast is included at Ryad Salama

Lunch is included during the guided tour

Dinner is not included.

Overnight at Ryad Salama

DAY 6 : FREE DAY IN FEZ

Free day to explore Fez on your own. Optional cooking class (costs extra)

Breakfast is included at Ryad Salama

Lunch and Dinner are not included.

Overnight at Ryad Salama

DAY 7: MIDDLE ATLAS MOUNTAINS TO ERFOUD

Travel from Fez through the Middle Atlas Mountains, which is home to the "Switzerland" of Morocco known as Ifrane. You'll head south where the mountains give way to flat, rocky escarpments and eventually impressive oasis valleys filled with agricultural settlements, villages, and date palms. Following, it's onward to the Ziz Valley oasis for lunch and a short, guided visit of the region's impressive agriculture. You'll then head to Erfoud, known as the gateway to the Sahara, for an overnight in preparation for tomorrow's full adventure. (7 hours drive with several stops)

Breakfast is included at Ryad Salama
Lunch is included in Ziz Valley
Dinner is included at La Rose du Desert
Overnight at La Rose du Desert

La Rose du Desert

Address: BP 294, N13, Erfoud 52200, Morocco

Phone: +212 5355-76583

Jale's note: This is a simple hotel at the gateway to Sahara. There are beautiful date palms in the garden and pool area.

DAY 8: SAHARA DESERT ENCAMPMENT

Following breakfast, you'll travel to the Sahara Desert and the region of Merzouga. The landscape quickly changes from rocky sahel where distant dunes will soon make themselves known. Before heading into the golden sand, you'll be able to enjoy a visit to a village to enjoy lunch prepared by local women who enjoy sharing their traditional methods of food preparation. You'll enjoy this local speciality for lunch and after a short siesta head into the dunes by 4x4 to your deluxe Sahara encampment. Once at the camp and settled in, an optional sunset camel ride awaits. Those who do not wish to ride camels can simply walk into the dunes to enjoy this mesmerizing setting as day turns to dusk with the stars making themselves known. Once back at the camp, dinner will be served followed by some local music fireside. Feel free to dance among the dunes until your heart's content. (2 hours drive)

Breakfast is included at La Rose du Desert
Lunch is included in Merzouga
Dinner is included at the Sahara Camp
Overnight at the Chergui Bivouac Sahara Desert Camp

Chergui Bivouac Sahara Desert Camp

DAY 9 : VALLEY OF THE KASBAHS - SKOURA

You can watch the sunrise over the dunes before breakfast is served. You'll check out of the Sahara Camp and drive to Khemlia Village to enjoy the local Gnawa music. Then you'll drive a few hours away to the roadside town of Tinjedad. Once here, located behind the buildings is an impressive ksar with Berber heritage museum that makes a worthwhile stop (and serves nice lunches). Following, you'll travel through the Dades Valley region and to Skoura, an area referred to as the Valley of Kasbahs. You'll travel deep within the valley to a wonderful garden kasbah hotel. (6 hours drive)

Breakfast is included at the Sahara Deluxe Camp

Lunch is not included

Dinner is included at Les Jardins de Skoura

Overnight at Les Jardins de Skoura

DAY 10 : AIT BEN HADDOU – TELOUET – MARRAKESH

After your time in Skoura, you'll travel to the UNESCO site of Ait Ben Haddou that has been used in various films as an impressive backdrop. After exploring the kasbah, you can choose if you'd like to add one hour to your day of transport by visiting the more hidden ruins of Telouet, which was once the base of the prominent Glaoui family that ruled southern Morocco before being overthrown by the current monarchy. You'll then travel over the stunning Tizi N' Tichka mountain pass that connects Morocco's south to Marrakesh. You'll be in safe hands with your driver as you climb in altitude and descend down to Marrakesh. Once in Marrakesh, you'll have time to settle in to the riad before some exploration of the main square and dinner is served at the riad this evening. (6 hrs drive)

Breakfast is included at Les Jardins de Skoura

Lunch is not included

Dinner is included at Riad Adore

Overnight at Riad Adore

DAY 11: MARRAKESH

Today is filled with learning about one of the world's most magically sounding cities (and a former capital of Morocco), Marrakesh. You'll meet with your guide at 9 a.m. this morning to discuss some of the more prominent and hidden monuments and sites you might like to see. Some of the more impressive monuments in the city are the Saadian Tombs, Bahia Palace, and various gardens including the Majorelle Gardens and Secret Gardens located within the ancient medina walls. Lunch is included on the guided visit today that ends around 3:30 p.m. or later if you'd like to keep exploring!

Breakfast is included at the riad.

Lunch is included while touring with your guide.

Dinner is not included.

DAY 12 : MARRAKESH

After breakfast, your driver will take you to the cooking class. Afternoon free. Optional (extra cost) evening food tour (walking tour with a local culinary guide, eating at 4-5 different restaurants, couscous specialty, etc,..)

Breakfast is included at the riad.
